To Whom It May Concern:

Bob Branan has provided over a period of years exemplary support to the many projects I have managed as the Information Assurance Coordinator in the Maryland Department of Health & Mental Hygiene. During his thirty six years of state service Bob has carried out faithfully and with exuberance the demanding tasks required to successfully complete the projects and work activities.

As a professional Systems Analyst, Bob has a unique talent and corresponding skills to analyze, organize, and systematically process complex information, prepare reports that can be understood by management, and recommend innovative solutions. Bob also understands the complex workings of government, and has worked well within these limitations with enthusiasm, responsibility, and a deep respect for the system and his position. His work ethic and personal stewardship qualities have earned the respect of his coworkers, those he supervised, and from management.

I would highly recommend him for a position within your organization.

Sincerely,

David Bickel,
Information Assurance Coordinator
